

Resume and Works Cited

Current as of November 1, 2011

Glenn Miller
info@silverquill.net
www.silverquill.net

Thank you for taking the time to review my resume and works cited. I am currently seeking employment within the field of internet development with a primary focus on user interface development, with secondary interests in internet marketing, web application development and graphical web design. Locations within the East Charlotte/Union County area are preferable, and I am also able to telecommute from a dedicated home office.

Development Capacity Summary

Over the last 15 years, I have been involved in all aspects of the website design and development process, both through corporate and agency environments. Some activities have included (but not been limited to):

- Client assistance in creating scope outlooks, goals, objectives, timelines and budgets
- Website design based on client negotiated needs
- Website development based on W3C guidelines and best practices, traditional methods and hybrid traditional/CSS methods
- Template development, installation, modifications and dissection
- Web application design, development, modification and documentation
- Quality control consultation and evaluation
- Search engine optimization, marketing and advertising

General Knowledge Base

Some of the programs that I have utilized in the past, as well as currently used include (but are not limited to):

- Back end development: Adobe Cold Fusion (primary language), ASP Classic, ASP.NET, PHP, JSP
- Front end development: HTML & CSS (screen, print and mobile), JavaScript
- Development tools: Adobe CS4 (Dreamweaver, Photoshop, Freehand, Illustrator), SQL Server, MySQL, Access
- Supporting tools: Microsoft Office (Word, Excel, Access), Visio

Work History

01/00 – Present

Freelance Web Design & Development

While maintaining full time positions, I have also been involved with many freelance projects. Most of the freelance projects that I have been involved with are smaller local clients on a Business to Business format, utilizing third party applications to give them a level of support to rival larger competition.

08/06 – 10/11

Senior Web Developer – ACN, Inc. (Concord, NC)

I began working with ACN with a focus on aesthetics. After my initial involvement, they presented several supporting projects and applications that catered to their customer base throughout North America and Europe – with a primary focus on the US, Canada and Puerto Rico customer base.

03/98 - 02/00

07/00 – 08/06

Senior Applications Developer - CC Communications, Inc. (Charlotte, NC)

I underwent many changes at CC Communications, working my way through the company into a senior application development position. For several years, I also Tele-commuted for CC Communications from my dedicated home office in Asheville, NC.

02/00 - 07/00

Senior Web Developer - Trinium Corporation (Indian Trail, NC)

I was offered the opportunity to come on board a startup web development company by the name of Trinium Corporation. The business had high hopes of success, and a drive that was very appealing to a younger crowd of business owners in the area, but was unable to sustain itself.

Education History

6/94 - 9/95

Central Piedmont Community College - Charlotte, NC

8/90 - 6/93

Independence High School - Mint Hill, NC

Professional references are available separately upon request.